What information we collect, use, and why

As a data controller, the Trustee collects and processes your personal data for the purposes of complying with its legal duties to administer the Scheme, and for other legitimate purposes relating to the operation of the Scheme. We hold this data in order to calculate and pay the benefits to and in respect of Scheme members.

In certain circumstances, we may need to collect some special categories of “sensitive” personal information in order to provide your pension benefits. This is most likely where we are collecting information to fulfil our obligation to provide benefits on your death, we obtain information that may reveal your racial or ethnic origin, religious or similar beliefs, or sexual orientation. In doing so, we hold this sensitive personal information in performance of our legal obligations in connection with your employment and pension provision, and in order to establish, exercise or defend legal claims. Where we ask for your consent to holding your sensitive personal information, you may withdraw your consent at any time by contacting Edwin Bruce-Gardner at mapleleaf@vidett.com.

We collect or use the information to comply with legal requirements which comes from various sources:

Information we may collect directly from you

The categories of personal information that we collect directly from you include:

- (a) personal details (for example, your name, date of birth, address);
- (b) your bank details and national insurance number;
- (c) your contact details (for example, your address, phone number and email address);
- (d) details about your family and dependants, so that depending on the rules of your Scheme, we can pay any pension benefits to your spouse / partner / children on your death; similarly, you can tell us who you would like us to consider paying any lump sum benefits on your death¹;
- (e) where applicable, your choice of fund for your contributions (and any contributions from your employer) to be paid into; and

In order to properly administer the Scheme, from time to time we may also need to hold other information about you.

¹ We assume that you have the consent of those individuals to provide us with this information and that you will share this privacy notice with them. We will not provide a copy of this notice to those individuals (as this may prevent us from being able to administer the Scheme properly).

How we use that information

The Trustee has a legitimate interest and legal obligation (see 'Lawful Bases' below) in holding and processing the above information about you as it is needed for us to administer the Scheme. We also process and retain personal data:

- to comply with our obligations towards members under the Scheme's governing documents, as well as under relevant legislation;
- to enable agreement to be reached with the Fraud Compensation Fund on any compensation to be paid to you, if applicable; and
- to provide data to the pension provider selected by the Trustee to secure member's benefits on a bulk transfer out of the Scheme following receipt of compensation from the FCF, if applicable. This will enable the pension provider to administer members' funds thereafter.

The data provided to our Investment Consultant will be used by them as necessary to provide the advice requested by the Trustee.

Personal data relating to the Scheme is held on paper and on computer systems. As the "data controller", the Trustee must process this information fairly and lawfully.

As part of running the Scheme, we may also need to hold and process particularly sensitive information about you and/or your dependents and beneficiaries (known as "sensitive personal data"). Under the legislation, details relating to health, racial or ethnic origin, religious or other similar beliefs, sexual orientation and political affiliations are regarded as "sensitive personal data". Except where the legislation allows it, this information cannot be processed or passed to a third party without your explicit consent.

Information we may collect from other sources (such as your employer, HMRC, DWP, regulatory bodies and tracing organisations)

These are examples of categories of information we may collect from other sources:

- (a) personal details (for example, your name, date of birth);
- (b) your contact details (for example, your address, phone number and email address);
- (c) information necessary to administer the Scheme.

Lawful bases

Our lawful bases for collecting or using your personal information for legal requirements are:

Legal obligation - to fulfil our legal obligations (including any contractual obligations and obligations relating to complying with the requirements of Pensions Dashboards), which includes making sure that your benefits are paid correctly.

The ways we use your information include:

- identifying you and your survivors and updating your details as may be requested by you
- communicating with you
- calculating and paying your benefits or in relation to a transfer of your benefits
- making trustee decisions – such as how to distribute benefits after your death
- deciding how to invest contributions paid by you or your employer, if applicable
- disclosing members' personal data to the Scheme's Pensions Dashboards provider.
- Providing data to the Fraud Compensation Fund, if applicable, to enable any compensation due to you to be calculated.
- Comply with the law, including regulations and guidance issued by the Pensions Regulator so that you, the Trustee, and the Scheme advisers are not subject to legal sanctions which may impact benefits

Legitimate interest – it is in your and the Trustee's legitimate interests to use your personal information to:

- Keep up to date and accurate records about your membership of the Scheme so that your benefits may be correctly administered
- Undertake risk-management exercises so that the risk your benefits are not paid is reduced

- Efficiently manage the impact of any change to the legal status of the sponsoring company so that your benefits are not adversely affected for example by a sale or company merger
- Carry out 'employer led' exercises so that the Scheme's employers can contact you for their legitimate interests of explaining your benefits under the Scheme, and any additional options which may be available to you in relation to those benefits, which tend to be called 'employer led' exercises.

When assessing whether a need to use personal information falls within a legitimate interest, the Trustee will generally assess whether your own interests, rights and freedoms under data protection laws are looked after when also considering the legitimate interest of the employer/third party in wanting to carry out the exercise. In this way the Trustee can protect your own rights under data protection laws.

In certain circumstances, the Trustee may also need to use the information held in relation to any legal claims. Our Investment Consultant will also have a legitimate interest in holding data in order to provide Investment Consultancy services to the Trustee.

How long we keep your personal data for

We will keep your personal information for as long as we need it in order to provide the benefits payable from the Scheme; this will be for the duration that you have benefits in the Scheme (whether payable at your retirement or to your survivors / beneficiaries after your death). We may then retain your personal data for a further period (up to 20 years), to take into account our legal obligations and regulators' expectations. We may also retain records to investigate or defend potential legal claims.

Where there is a maximum limit on how long we can keep certain personal data for, such as in relation to Pensions Dashboards, we will comply with that restriction.

Our Investment Consultant will keep a copy of the data provided to them in line with their data retention policy which is currently for a minimum of six years and a maximum of seven years from the date their services cease.

Who we share your personal data with

We may share your personal information with:

- (a) the Scheme's administrators and our advisers (such as Scheme lawyers and investment consultants) to facilitate the administration of the Schemes and your benefits including the bulk transfer of all Scheme members' benefits to another pension provider;
- (b) relevant public bodies, including His Majesty's Revenue and Customs ("HMRC") and other Government organisations, including the Pensions Regulator, the Pension Protection Fund, the Financial Conduct Authority, and the Information Commissioner's Office;
- (c) insurance companies, other pension providers or occupational pension schemes and their advisers with a view to securing benefits through long term insurance policies or a merger of schemes
- (d) third parties that form part of the "dashboard ecosystem" that enables Pensions Dashboards services to work, as well as the Scheme's Integrated Service Provider (ISP), which provides a service allowing pensions information from the Scheme to be connected to the Dashboards ecosystem.

International transfer of your personal information

We may transfer and process your personal information outside of the UK. Where your personal information is to be transferred outside the UK (for example by the Scheme administrator to an approved sub-Processor) we will take reasonable steps to ensure that there are appropriate safeguards in place in accordance with applicable legal requirements to protect the information. For more information on any safeguards in place, please contact us.
